READINGS 30TH SUNDAY ORDINARY TIME:

Don't worry what you have to say, don't worry because on that day...

All the miracles worked by Jesus show us who He really is. He is far more than a good man, far more than a famous rabbi, He is the Son of God, the Word-made-flesh, God living among us. Among His miracles we see Him healing the sick, whether that sickness be of mind, body or spirit. We can be spiritually blind, for example, when we fail to see that human life is about loving concern for one another rather than just a means for us to build up power over other people. We can be spiritually lame when all we can offer is a cynical or a negative comment. We can be in need of healing when we feel helpless and lost, alone or afraid. Jesus can, and always will, heal all our sicknesses provided we bring them to Him in faith. So many in the world today think there is no room for faith, that miracles never happen, some even feel that they are beyond God's healing. In the week ahead let us try to be more like the crowd around Bartimaeus and encourage those around us who need His healing, and say to them: Courage, get up; He is calling you!

...God's Spirit will speak in your heart!

Today is World Mission Sunday which is celebrated in every Catholic community in the world.

This World Mission Sunday, get inspired by women reaching out across religious divides to heal their community. With Missio's support, Sister Veronica has been leading the Women's Interfaith Council since 2019. The mission and the vision of the organisation is to create a forum where Muslims and Christians come together to discuss issues and participate in peace building.

There are envelopes in church if you would like to donate or online by visiting missio.org.uk where there is also more information on their work. Thank you.

READINGS ALL SAINTS: Go in peace...

Our spiritual lives cannot, and do not, end when we leave the church after Mass. We need to keep the fire of God's love burning through our daily prayer - even if all we pray is: I know God, You love me unconditionally, You forgive me, You are with me - and then offer Him our day. Loving our neighbour as ourselves depends wholly on how we love ourselves. If our mind and heart are at war with each other, then we are going to show our dissatisfaction with our lives to others. But if we are at one with ourselves and sincere and honest in what we do and say, then we will be able to show others the same respect - the same love - we have for ourselves. As we encounter other people we must always try to recognise the presence of the Lord in them. Our peace comes from the sure knowledge of God's unconditional love for us; our peace is made flesh in the way we love and accept others. Serving them is serving God. Jesus gives us all we need and calls us to make Him present for others in the way we treat them. May the peace of Christ within us help us serve Him in others.

... glorifying the Lord by your life!

Service for the Commemoration of the Dead

There will be a service in church on Sunday 14th November at 3pm (Remembrance Sunday) to remember all those who have died, especially over the past two years. Nearer the time we will send out invitations to those families whose names and address we have but everyone is most welcome to attend.

Congratulations to Matilda Rosie Beaton who was baptised here recently.

LIVE SIMPLY: As one small part of the Live Simply programme we would like to continue putting together our recipe book with vegetarian and vegan recipes as well as recipes that use up leftovers. Anyone who has some good ideas can email in to the parish office or hand them in at mass. Many thanks. Fr Hugh
